

GOVERNMENT CALLS HUNDRED WITNESSES

Trial of Officials of the Hamburg-American Line
Begins Monday

FACE UNIQUE CHARGE

Counsel for Defense Claim Intent Was to Deceive Allies and Not the United States

ONE DEFENDANT AT LARGE

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—One hundred or more witnesses to testify against high officials of the Hamburg-American Steamship Line at their trial on charges of conspiracy, which begins next Monday, have been summoned by the government. The trial probably will last a week. Four of the five defendants have pleaded not guilty and the fifth has not been apprehended. The maximum penalty for the crime charged is two years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine on each of the two indictments.

The defendants are Karl Buehn, managing director of the line; Adolph Hochmeister, purchasing agent; Joseph Poppenhaus, a second officer in the line's employ; George Kotter, superintendent of the line and Felix Seffner, alleged shipper of the cargo on one of the ships.

Seffner has not been found.

Faces Unique Charge.

A charge unique in American jurisprudence faces them—conspiracy to defraud and deceive the government by obtaining clearance papers on false representations. To facilitate the trial counsel for the defense admits that the defendants chartered certain ships and sent them with supplies to the German Cruisers Karlsruhe, Kaiser Wilhelm and other German men of war active in the Atlantic in the late summer and early fall of 1914, as charged, but denies that these acts constitute a conspiracy to defraud or deceive the United States. The intent, it is claimed, was to deceive the allies instead.

So well did the German agent know that war was inevitable, the government charges, that some of the fifteen ships involved were chartered weeks before the war began and several actually sailed on their alleged errands of war before war had actually been declared.

Spent Large Amount.

Seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars of German money, the defendants admit, was spent in chartering and outfitting four vessels for relief of the cruisers. This money the government is prepared to prove, according to Mr. Wood, was placed in a New York bank to the credit of a man who was told to spend it under direction of Captain K. Boy-Ed, the German naval attaché and was spent in accordance with these instructions.

Two of the fifteen ships, it is charged sailed from Pacific ports and two others, the Fram and Sommerstad, were to have sailed from Philadelphia but did not because the government was advised of their alleged plans.

Villa forces of General Jose Rodriguez have broken thru the cordon placed around Cananea by General Obregon and are rushing to the assistance of Villa.

The retreating Villa forces are being hotly pursued by General Diguez. Some of the retreating troops had reached as far north as Imuris by railroad and General Obregon has diverted his troops attacking Cananea to the west to cut off the escape of Villa's men to Nogales. General Diguez reported to General Obregon tonight that the combined forces of Villa and Urbalejo retreated northward, leaving six hundred dead and 150 men killed and wounded. ## HOSTILE FORCES OVERRUN SERBIA

Believe Military Situation Will Force Greece to Abandon Attitude

NEWS COMFORTS ALLIES

Athens Despatches State Public Opinion is Running Strongly for Entente

CONFIRM BULGAR SUCCESSES

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The belief is expressed here that the present military situation in Serbia, which appears to make Serbian retreat into Greek territory almost inevitable will force within 24 hours to abandon the ambiguous attitude which had been a cause of uneasiness to both central and entente powers and policy.

Would Welcome End to Uncertainty.

Such a policy even if it is adverse to the entente will at least be welcomed here as an end to the uncertainty of the past month. Some comfort is derived here from the optimistic tone of despatches from Athens which, since the arrival of Denys Cochin the French cabinet member who went to Greece on a special mission, report that public opinion is running strongly for the allies. But since it is a well known fact that King Constantine's choice waits upon the outcome of military events, which at present would hardly preposes him in favor of the entente allies, there is no real expectation in London that Greek assistance will be forthcoming.

It is already announced from German sources that the Greek government has informed the foreign diplomats that, in order to maintain neutrality, it will disarm and intern all Serbian troops which may retreat onto Greek territory. It also is stated in German newspapers that Albanian troops are trying to bar the other road of retreat by concentrating on the Serbian border. The Bulgarian successes at Kuchuk Pass, Tetovo, and Babuna Pass have now been confirmed and the "unconquered" plateau where the Serbians expected to make a last desperate resistance, is now apparently open to the invaders.

Fall of Monastir Not Confirmed.

The fall of Monastir has not been confirmed and, according to latest information, the Serbians are advancing thence to meet the Bulgarians but endangered as it is from three different quarters—Babuna Pass, Groud and Krivo—there is slight possibility of its holding out in case the Bulgarians make a real attempt to take it. The Austro-German armies are now on the borders of Novi-pazar and are approaching Pristina. Thus Old Serbia as it existed before the last two Balkan wars, is completely overrun by hostile forces.

The eruption apparently was in the foothills of Cocopah Mountains, located about fifty miles south of the border. A number of small hot mud springs, known as volcano lake, are located in that vicinity.

WITH A FULL TICKET

Perkins Announces Meeting of Executive Committee of Party Has Been Called for New York for Nov. 29.

Kansas City, Nov. 20.—After an all day session here leaders of the Progressive party in Missouri today adopted a resolution declaring themselves in favor of entering the 1916 campaign with a full national state and county ticket headed by Theodore Roosevelt for President and Hiram W. Johnson for vice president. The resolution was adopted after George W. Perkins of New York, chairman of the Progressive National committee, had announced that a meeting of the executive committee of the party had been called for New York, Nov. 29th, at which it would be arranged to hold a meeting of the full national committee to fix a date and name a place for the Progressive national convention. The resolution adopted today follows:

"We see nothing in the present attitude of either of the old parties that holds out any promise for the future. As in the 1912 campaign the powers of graft and special privileges are in control of the old party organizations and are openly preparing to write platforms and nominate candidates in harmony with their interests.

"We therefore stand squarely on our national platform of 1912 and favor the nomination of National, state and county tickets on that platform."

Judge Albert D. Norton of St. Louis, Progressive candidate for governor of Missouri in 1912, offered a motion that the meeting declare itself in favor of placing Roosevelt and Johnson at the head of next year's ticket. The motion carried.

No reply was received and he was buried today in an obscure country graveyard where the mystery surrounding the man bids fair to end. ## SOCIAL PROGRAM SHOWS CHANGES

Official Entertainments at
The White House Will Be Resumed

WILL BEGIN JANUARY 7

Big New Year Reception Will Be Omitted, as It Has for the Past Two Years

PAN-AMERICAN RECEPTION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The program of official entertainments at the white house which will be resumed this winter after a lapse of a year, it was announced tonight, the program shows several changes from that of previous years due mostly to the European war. The series of dinners and receptions will not begin until January 7th, after the marriage of President Wilson to Mrs. Norman Galt and the new mistress of the white house will take her place at all of them.

Omit New Year Reception.

The big New Year reception, at which presidents in past years have been accustomed to receive diplomats, officials, army and navy officers, members of many patriotic organizations and all citizens who presented themselves will be omitted as it has been for the past two years. The president and Mrs. Galt probably will be away on their honeymoon on that day.

The principal changes in the program this year will be the cancelling of the diplomatic reception and the substitution of two diplomatic dinners for the one usually held.

This departure was decided on because of the impossibility of inviting diplomats representing the opposing nations engaged in the war to the same dinner.

The ambassadors and ministers representing neutral powers will be allotted between the two dinners. Just how the selections will be made has not been settled and is admittedly a perplexing problem, especially as regards those diplomats whose countries now are being urged to enter the war by both sides. The first diplomatic dinner will be given January 21st and the second January 25th.

To Hold Pan-American Reception.

The series of entertainments will be opened January 7th with a Pan-American reception in honor of delegates to the Pan-American scientific congress and diplomats representing Central and South American nations. Then will follow the cabinet dinner, the two diplomatic dinners, the judicial reception, the congressional reception, a dinner to speakers of the senate and house and several special guests and, finally, the Army and Navy reception.

The dinners will be held in the state dining room in the white house, which was completely repaired last summer. The United States marine band will furnish music at the receptions and the president will be attended by fourteen military and naval aides officially attached to the white house. The preparations already have begun and from now on a special staff of clerks will work on the invitations.

It's the same old question, but developments in St. Louis county, Missouri, are worthy of comment. There, Democratic and Republican party leaders have joined forces to put thru a $3,000,000 bond issue for improvement of roads in that county. Petitions are in circulation and influential men in both parties are lending their best aid to the movement. A good example.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, according to a statement just made by his secretary, has no intention of accepting an English offer to command the "City of London" regiment. Telegrams from Canada told of the offer sent from London to the former president. Canadian comment is that Roosevelt would make a "bennie" fighter and that the loyal subjects of the King there only wished the report of his intentions were true. There are American citizens—some of them leaders in political life—who will join heartily in the wish of the Canadians, and have a feeling that their political course would be much easier and safer if the colonel were occupied with affairs in England for the coming year.

The municipal Christmas tree Jacksonville had last year was a very successful feature of the holiday season. Thus far nothing has been said about a municipal Christmas tree for 1915 and it seems probable that the movement will not be undertaken this year. The tree which was brought in from Diamond Grove cemetery and planted near the pagoda in Central Park did not flourish and after it had remained for several months, became unsightly and its removal was necessary. Decatur is to have a municipal tree again this year and plans are now under way for planting a huge tree there in such a way that it is hoped it will grow and thus become available from year to year. The municipal tree idea has something very attractive about it, but it will probably not be a lasting feature.

Down near Carlinville they have some state aid road and the women of that locality, with an eye to the future, have called attention to the need there is for planting some trees along the highway. It seems that a number of trees in that locality have died during recent years and that there has been no effort at replacement. There may be some opposition to the plan because it is known that trees make a certain amount of soil space adjacent unavailable for crop production, but certainly a few trees along a well paved country road will add much to its appearance and comfort.

For Jacksonville the question of tree replacement is one which should not be lost sight of. The early residents of this city who planted the elms and other trees which now line the streets made the largest contribution to the beauty of this city.

Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON

GRUMBING.

I heard the farmer say, "The bean crop's far from fine, and I am short of hay—what rotten luck is mine!" He wore a dismal frown, and raised a sadder wail, and when he went to town, he told a hard-luck tale. His wheat crop was immense, the corn was bumper, too; and by the old rail fence uncrowded pumpkins grew. His cows were filling kegs with butter he could sell, his hens were laying eggs too numerous to tell. At covering their slats the hogs were doing fine, and yet, "Doggone my cats," he said, "what luck is mine!" His Early Riser peas were gleaming in their pods; for whey and milk and cheese he took in many wads. No farmer, near or far, more blessings e'er enjoyed; he had his motor car, his teeth of celluloid. He had, in large amount, the things for which men pant; he had his bank account, his corkcreeper and his aunt. And yet he said, said he, "Dame Fortune always tries to take a fall from me, and poke me in the eyes!" Ten million men like him upon this globe insure; they ought to sing a hymn, but always wail a dirge.

tion to the beauty of this city. As a city of elms Jacksonville has a country-wide reputation, and it thus reputation is to be maintained there is necessity for some definite plan of tree replacement to be followed. The matter has been mentioned in the city council sessions and it is probable that something may be done in this line in the coming year. A definite plan should be outlined with the expectation that it will be followed out from year to year, so that when the old trees which now ornament the streets are gone, that others will be well on the way toward supplying the beauty and shade which the earlier planted trees have been furnishing.

An Unappreciated Poem.

President Wilson is an ardent lover of music and poetry and is said to have a penchant for limericks. Many times in his campaign for the presidency and in his speech on the court house steps here, Mr. Wilson quoted a limerick he said he thought especially applicable to himself: "For beauty I am not a star. There are other handsomer far, But my face I don't mind it, for I am behind it."

It is those in front that I jar." But the president's taste for jingles does not include, it seems, an appreciation of the lines of a song which Michael Fitzpatrick of New York has just written and dedicated to President Wilson and Mrs. Galt. Since Mrs. Galt is of Indian ancestry and proud of the fact, the lines supposedly tell of the wooing which led to the announcement a few weeks ago of the coming marriage. This is the way the song begins:

"A paleface chief of a mighty tribe, On the trail of an Indian squaw In his light canoe that was built for two

Came drifting to the shore. A lover's dart hit the white man's heart

From the girl of copper shade. For he was the chief of the paleface tribe

And she was an Indian maid."

It was not long after the author sent a copy of the verse to the White House that he received a note from Secretary Tumulty suggesting that the president would greatly appreciate it if the song was not made public. Evidently the president not only fails to appreciate this bit of rhyming but also has reached the limit in permitting his personal affairs to be the general topic of conversation among his countrymen. Thus far he has taken it all with perfect good nature and had probably prepared himself in advance for a whole lot of publicity not entirely to his liking.

Light of a Deep Sea Shrimp.

One of the most extraordinary crustacea ever discovered was dredged up by the Prince of Monaco from a depth of 16,000 feet. It has been named Oplophorus grimaldi. It is a sort of shrimp, and its peculiarity is that it squirts from two holes near its mouth a liquid which, on coming into contact with salt water, produces a fine pale blue light.

Absolute darkness reigns in the depths where it lives, but the little shrimp does not find it necessary to keep its light always burning. This would use up too much energy, so it squirts out the illuminating fluid only when it wants to look at something, or perhaps to attract the minute animalcules that form its food.—New York World.

The only requirement is that the subscription must go to a home where the Journal is not now being sent.

This is your chance to earn the Christmas money over which you have been puzzling. The orders given will be exactly the same as cash in value. Bring in one subscription and you receive a fifty cent order; bring in five and you receive an order for $2.50 or ten subscriptions will entitle you to a five dollar order. Tell us on what merchant you want the order drawn, go to the store, pick out the goods wanted and the order will be accepted in payment.

Three years ago at the holiday season the Journal tried this plan which took the paper into new homes and permanent readers resulted. That's the reason we can offer to exchange for new subscriptions on which payments of fifty cents are made the full amount paid in. The plan is simple and plain and there are no requirements other than here enumerated but if the proposition is not quite clear to you stop in at the Journal office or phone for information. The subscription price of the Daily Journal is $5 a year by carrier or $4 by mail.

ENGINE REPAIRS COMPLETE

The work in overhauling the Russell engine at the city light plant is just about completed. An expert mechanic from the factory at Massillon, Ohio, has been here for about two weeks and has directed the extensive work necessary. The shafting has been reabbitted, the cylinders rebolted, and in other details the engine has been made practically as good as new. It will not only be more efficient for the work required of it, but a great deal less fuel will be required in firing it.

MAVERICKS

To sing a song when the day is bright,
Is quite an easy matter,
But it's hard to sing when snow and rain
Upon the roof does patter.

But if you can sing in snow and rain,
It may make the world seem brighter.
For it may cheer a weary soul
And make the burden lighter.

Who ever wrote the poem, "Beautiful Snow", has a lot to answer for in the next world.

Champ Clark may make the speech nominating Mr. Wilson for president at the next Democratic convention. But a lot of people believe it still rankles in Mr. Clark's breast the way they kicked his dawg around at Baltimore in 1912.

The conviction of Mr. Munday on Friday may lead him to suspect that Friday is his Jonah day.

Some time ago it was said that while turkeys would be high, the trimmings would be lower. Now even that hope is dashed to earth as the cranberry crop is said to be extremely light.

A man named Victor Sly was arrested in London the other day for alleged illegal traffic in munition supplies. The arrest goes to show that there is nothing in a name.

The Blackfoot Indians are said to be getting together a collection of furs to send to President Wilson's finance. According to dispatches one piece of fur is said to have been owned by the Indians for over fifty years. Merely as a precautionary measure we suggest that it be well fumigated before being taken into the white house.

The editor of the Carrollton Gazette throws several fits over Governor Dunne's waterway commission in his paper and also takes a shot at baseball and football. He says that football never did appeal to him, which is not surprising. It would seem at this distance that the editor has a bad case of indigestion and it has made him sore at everybody in the world, even the Democratic party which he has supported so ardently for many years.

In the new laws recently passed by the Georgia legislature one provides that liquor shipped into the state for personal use must be limited to two quarts of whiskey, forty-eight pints of beer or one gallon of wine for each thirty day period. We predict that in warm weather there will be lots of thirsty citizens in the state of Georgia after the law goes into effect.

Just Cause for Libel Suit.

Louise Engle is shucking corn for Ira Scoville.—Beardstown Illinoisan Star.

We imagine if some of those old Pilgrim fathers were here now and some one tried to charge them thirty cents a pound for turkeys there would be a revolution equal to that of 1776.

We learn that a farmer is suffering from the hoof and mouth disease. We know lots of people who suffer from mouth disease, but unfortunately it doesn't seem to cause any ill effects.

Every time we see in the dispatches that Americans have been killed in a foreign land it leads us to believe more than ever, that the place for Americans in these troublesome times is at home.

Things to be Thankful For.

President Wilson that William J. Bryan now resides in Lincoln, Neb. The former city administration that other fellows are now getting the abuse.

The public that the one man street cars only run every fifteen minutes.

The Car that the Germans have gone into camp for the winter.

Monmouth that she did not play Illinois.

Most of us that we are not used to eating turkey anyway.

The high school football team that Greenfield cancelled her game.

William J. Bryan that he is still able to talk.

The people of the United States that Teddy Roosevelt is a private citizen.

W. N. Haigrove that he hasn't promoted any more elections.

The dyes that so much of the country has become arid.

The wets that it wasn't any worse.

Walt Miser that the Utilities Commission took a vacation.

All of us that the country is at peace with the world, prosperity reigns and we have health and happiness.

CORN SHOW ATTRACTED

MANY FARMERS SATURDAY

Exhibit Arranged By Jacksonville Farm Supply Co. Indicated the Fine Crop Conditions.

The corn show arranged by the Jacksonville Farm Supply company for Saturday was a successful event. Prizes were offered for the best ten ears of yellow and white corn and also for the best corn raised by any boy. This was a great corn year and possibly that stimulated the interest in the contest to some extent. Because of this extra quality of corn the judges had some difficulty in reaching their decision. For yellow corn the first prize was awarded to William Thies and the second to E. A. Ranson. For white corn, the first prize was awarded to John Whalen of Franklin, route No. 1 and the second to Charles Gilbert of Jacksonville, route No. 1.

The prize in the boys' contest was awarded to Fred Burchett of Franklin. The judges were Charles Rowe, G. A. Leach and E. A. Ranson for white corn and the yellow corn and the corn raised by boys was judged by Roy James, William Thies and Harold Joy. After the awards had been made, all the corn offered was auctioned off by Capt. John E. Wright, who donated his services. L. N. James brought in a bushel of corn which was included in the sale, and the proceeds were $9.75. Substantial prizes were offered by the firm and the exhibit was a credit to the corn growers of the county.

The receipts of the sale of corn will be divided between the two hospitals.

AUTO TRUCK AND STREET CAR COLLIDE

About 6 o'clock Saturday evening the auto truck of J. B. Suter & Son and a South Main street car collided in front of the Railway and Light Company's office in South Main street. J. B. Suter was driving the car and was turning around in front of the Light company office. The street car in charge of Motorman Arthur Harrison was going north toward the square. It hit the automobile as it was directly across the track. One fender was ruined and several punctures were made in one of the tires. Mr. Suter had some dishes, groceries and chickens in the truck. The dishes were damaged and a chicken got under the car and made so much noise that those who rushed to the scene thought some one was injured. The car was pushed from the track by bystanders. CRUSHED THE CRITIC.

An Anecdote of Verdi and a Bothersome Parisian Journalist.

The first production of Verdi's opera "Otello" took place at Milan, and all the prominent musical critics of Europe foregathered in the Cathedral City in honor of the occasion. Among them was a Parisian journalist of wide reputation and admitted authority in the musical world. His first care on his arrival in Milan was to seek out Verdi and ask to be allowed to be present at one of the final rehearsals.

The composer received the critic with extreme politeness, but replied that he could not possibly grant his request, as he had decided that the rehearsals were to be absolutely private, and he could not make an exception in the favor of any one journalist, however distinguished.

The Paris critic, far from pleased at this answer, protested that in these circumstances his account of the opera might not be all he should like it to be. "You see," he explained to the composer, who affected not quite to understand, "I shall have to telegraph my article the same evening. It will necessarily be hastily written, and the impression in Paris the next day may suffer in consequence."

But Verdi was more than equal to the occasion. "My dear sir," he made answer, "I do not write for the next day." The critic bowed himself out.

USE A LOOSE REIN.

Do Not Be "Bossy" and Domineering In the Home Circle.

I find that I can write all day without pain in my fingers if I hold the pen loosely. If I should grasp it tightly it would be only a few hours before the strain made writing almost impossible.

Do we not often hold too tight a rein on ourselves and our families for comfort? Habit has made us bossy and domineering. When a member of the family goes we want to know where he is going and how long he intends to be gone; we keep a string on him and are ready to drag him home that we may feel that all are sheltered and under our watchful eyes.

This is selfish care. It fences the individual in. It hampers him and makes his field of pleasure and activity cramped and rasping.

When one knows that another is trustworthy, why hold so tight a rein? Some of us have got into the habit of repressing and suppressing ourselves for the sake of peace and the absence of anxiety. Freedom is necessary for the development of individuality and the best that is in each one of us. The caged bird never sings so joyously as the bird in the field or forest.—Shirley in Farm Life.

Salt Water Cataracts.

There are a good many salt water cataracts in existence. They may be found in Norway, southern Chile and British Columbia, where narrow fjords, or arms of the sea, are obstructed by barriers of rock. The rising tide flows over and filters through such reefs into the great natural reservoirs beyond, but the water is held back at the ebb until it breaks over the obstruction in an irresistible torrent. Most curious of all is the waterfall at Canoe Pass, where the island of Vancouver approaches the British Columbia mainland. Here the flood tide from the gulf of Georgia to the southward is held back at a narrow cleft between two islands until it pours over in a boiling cascade eighteen feet high, with perhaps double the volume of the Rhine. At the turn of the tide, however, the waters from the north rush back into the gulf, producing a cascade of equal height and volume. The waterfall actually flows both ways.

His Criticism.

One of the wittiest of clergymen, advocating the habit of preaching extempore sermons instead of reading written ones, said he had heard of a Scottish minister who always relied upon his manuscript. At last his sorrowful congregation sent a deputation to complain that he did not speak, but always read, his sermons.

"Ah, my good friends," said he, "I have a bad memory. I should forget what I had to say."

"Well, minister," was the scathing answer, "if ye cannot remember your ain discourses ye cannot blame us if we forget them."—London Answers.

Fascination of Golf.

"I've heard of Nero playing on 'is fiddle, sir, when 'is 'ome was a-burnin'," said the landlady, putting down the local paper, "but this 'ere game of golf must be the most fascinating 'obby in the world. I've been reading about the fire up at the golf ground last Friday, and it says, 'The fire brigades promptly responded to the call, and when darkness closed in they were still playing upon the ruins of the clubhouse.'"

La Mascotte.

The mascot came to us from the French. The word is French slang and was popularized by Audran's comic opera, "La Mascotte," in 1880, though before that its use had long been common among French gamblers. And, as in England, the mascot could be anything from a dog to a doughnut.—London Standard.

A TROPHY FROM THE SOUTH

John Kilian who is now employed by the Ullendorf Meat Company at Miami, Florida, has sent his brother George D., of this city, a trophy which caused every one about the garage on West Court street to sit up and guess and without avail. It was a queen looking affair, light, about eight inches long, irregular shaped but something like an egg, five inches in diameter at the largest part and adorned with many letters. It was a cocoon shell and quite a curiosity in these parts.

Some Topics of the Farm

Gives Special Attention to Horses.
J. E. Curry of the Pisgah neighborhood is now devoting special attention to horse breeding as he believes that the prices for horses will show continual advances. He owns "Teddy" an English shire stallion, and "Illinois Artist" road stallion, together with twenty-one mares. Mr. Curry is feeding about eighty head of hogs and has them running in a corn field. He does not feed cattle but buys and ships frequently.

Buys Thoroughbred Hogs.
L. S. Doane, who is constantly putting his Joy Prairie farm into better condition recently decided to have only thoroughbred hogs on the place. He sold off all the hogs he had and has purchased ten gilts and a male from Austin Patterson. Some of them are May pigs and now weigh 180 pounds, and the others that came in March average 210. They all have good frame and are from registered stock and cholera immune. Mr. Patterson has for several years kept nothing but such high class Poland China hogs and he has had excellent success with them.

Iowa Corn Champion.
Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 20.—Wade J. Hauser, a 15-year-old Hardin county youth, was today declared to be Iowa's champion corn grower by the Iowa State college at Ames, which has been conducting a series of corn growing contests for boys. Hauser produced 150 1-10 bushels of shelled dry corn on one acre of Hardin county soil.

WIDE TIRES AND GOOD ROADS

In these days of continued and advisable talk about good roads, George H. Hall of Alexander believes that not enough importance is being given to the question of the width of tires. He says that the width of a wagon tire has much to do with the cost of hauling a load and still more to do with the condition of the earth roads. A road may be well drained and graded and then get into quite a bad condition simply because it is cut up by narrow tired heavily loaded wagons. Wide tired wagons have some thing of the effect of a roller on roads and helps keep them in good condition. For a number of years Mr. Hall has preserved a record which was published some years ago of experiment made at the Ohio farm station to settle the controversy as to the relative value of wide tires and narrow tires.

The following figures compiled from exhaustive experiments on roads and farms prove the beneficial effects of broad tires both in regard to the draft of wagon and to the cutting of road surface. The narrow tires used were 1 1-2 inches wide and the broad ones 6 inches. The load in each case was 2,000 lbs., including the weight of the wagon.

Dirt road—Surface dry; free from ruts and dust. Narrow tires required 137.3 lbs. to pull the load. Broad tires required 104.8 pounds to pull the load. Difference in favor of broad tires, 32.5 pounds of 31 per cent.

Clay road—Surface soft to depth of three or four inches. Narrow tires cut a rut five or six inches deep. Broad tires cut a rut three and a half inches deep. Narrow tires required 340.1 pounds to draw the load. Broad tires required 490.8 pounds to draw the load. Difference in favor of narrow tires, 150.7 pounds, or 44.3 per cent.

Meadows—Timothy sod; moist but firm. Narrow tire cut a rut 3 1-2 inches deep. Broad tire cut a rut 1-4 to 1 inch deep, doing no perceptible damage. Narrow tires required 420.8 pounds to draw the load. Broad tires required 305 pounds to draw the load. Difference in favor of broad tires, 115.8 pounds, or 38 per cent.

Grass and stubble three inches high, ground soft and spongy. Narrow tire cut five to six inches deep. Broad tire cut rut one and one-half to two inches deep, doing no damage. Narrow tire required 569.1 pounds to draw the load. Broad tire required 323.6 pounds to draw the load. Difference in favor of broad tire 245.5 pounds, or 84 per cent.

It will be seen that in only one test out of four did the narrow tire have the advantage in draft, and that was where the surface of the road was soft, but the subsurface was fairly hard. The narrow tire cut through to this hard surface, while the broad tire remained on top. In all of the tests on meadows and plowed land, the difference was always in favor of broad tire, because on them the load was much more easily drawn and did much less damage to the field.

One trial, four horses pulled the ton load on narrow tires with an average draft of 1,876 pounds. Two horses pulled same load over same road with an average draft of 379.9 pounds, showing that the same load was less difficult for two horses on broad tires than for four horses on narrow tires.

When it is considered that most of the hauling done by farmers is on their farms and not on the roads, this saving in draft is quite an item in the course of a year. When the protection to the field and roadbed is considered, it seems strange that there are so many narrow tired wagons in use.

SOIL AND LIVES'OCK THEMES AT SCOTT COUNTY INSTITUTE

C. C. Pervier and Frank L. Mann Made Addresses at Saturday's Session—Women Considered Home Themes.

The attendance the second day of the Scott County Farmers' Institute at Bluffs was much larger than was true Friday. In addition to the good program announced it was well advertised that a burgo dinner would be served free of charge and many farmers from the surrounding territory availed themselves of the offered hospitality. The occasion furnished a splendid opportunity for the exchange of views on farm conditions and thus was generally beneficial.

The first address of the morning session was by C. C. Pervier of Sheffield, Ill., his theme being "Livestock on the Farm." Mr. Pervier has been for years a successful grower of stock, devoting special attention to hogs, altho he raises some cattle as well. He is a believer, therefore, in diversified farming and considers that the best results financially and from the standpoint of maintaining soil fertility are best attained thru this system. He makes it a rule to feed practically all the grain and hay that he raises on his farms and in addition is frequently a purchaser of corn from other farmers. In this address he explained in some detail the plan he follows when on full feed and with others when he desires to rough them thru the winter and then put them on grass.

In the afternoon Mr. Pervier's theme was "The Prevention of Disease Among Hogs." While he believes that frequently good results are attained thru vaccination, he thinks that as a rule there is no need of cholera if the stockman takes proper precautionary measures. Clean quarters and clean drinking water are among the essentials in prevention, according to his views. And he has found that slack coal and limestone dust if available for hogs and helpful in preventing disease. A somewhat varied ration he thinks also builds up for hogs a constitution with better resistance.

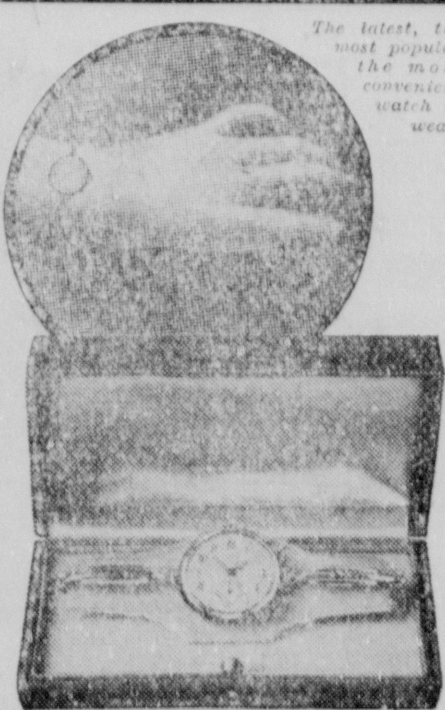

Frank L. Mann made two addresses during the day, one at the morning session and on alfalfa and the other legume crops, and the other on how to increase and maintain soil fertility. It was Mr. Mann's purpose to have his remarks apply in a special way to local conditions, and for that reason he had made some little investigation with reference to the quality of the soil in Scott county. Mr. Mann's simple creed of soil fertility is quite well known as for years he has been in accord with other agricultural experts in maintaining that the question of soil fertility resolves itself into crop rotation and the building up and keeping up of the soil by securing the necessary amount of humus matter by raising legume crops. Then he goes on to show that the reason clover has not done well for some periods has been because of the lack of the necessary limestone and phosphate in the soil. There are hundreds of questions relating to soil fertility but all of them in some way or other rest upon these basic principles that Mr. Mann outlines. The best evidence of the correctness of his theory can be found on his farm near Gilman, where he has been practicing these principles for a ten year period, and the crop results have shown some marvelous increases by comparison with earlier records.

Household science sessions were held again at the M. P. church, with Mrs. F. I. Mann and Mrs. H. A. McKee as the speakers. The subjects discussed related to economic affairs of the home and demonstrations were also given in table setting and serving, and suggestive menus were discussed. Altogether the institute was considered as very successful and created more interest than such previous events have in Scott county.

REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home."

Illinois college won the championship of the "Little Sixteen" conference when they defeated Carthage college on Illinois field Saturday afternoon by a score of 111 to 0. It was a strong ending of a great season for Illinois and is the cleanest cut championship victory ever recorded in the history of the conference. Illinois has not been defeated this year and some of the scores made against other teams have not really shown her strength.

In view of the fact that Illinois defeated Lombard 14 to 7 and that Lombard held Monmouth, the winner of the "Little Five" conference, proclaims Illinois college the winner not only of the "Little Sixteen" conference, but of the entire state. Coach Harmon built up a wonderful machine this year and it crushed everything it went up against. Saturday was the last time Illinois college men will be in action during the season, and it was the last time for old Illinois that Stewart, Karch and Alford will play. There was a good sized crowd present to see this final contest to decide the state championship honors, and the only feature that marred the occasion was the apparent weakness of the visitors.

Illinois knew but very little of Carthage's strength and had hoped for a contest that would make them get down and die. As it was, Carthage proved a poor opponent and while they seemed to play hard and stuck to it, they were unable to get anywhere. During the entire game they made first down only once, while the Illinois regular line-up was in the game, and at no time did they threaten Illinois' goal. It seemed to the crowd that Carthage should have played better ball. The Illinois men almost ran their heads off and there was scarcely a play that did not make great gains. They bucked the visitors' line, ran their ends and worked forward passes at will.

Coach Harmon after five or six minutes of play in the third quarter, sent in his entire second team and they put up a good hard plucky fight, scoring one touchdown and being well on their way toward another score when time was called for the end of the quarter. They were left in until the quarter ended and Carthage was unable to score against them. Picking out the players on the Illinois team who starred would be hard to do, as every man played brilliantly and acquitted himself satisfactorily to his coach and college. With the Illinois men it was only a question of who carried the ball to make the gains.

Mitchell got the "Eldorado" from the crowd on several occasions for his brilliant work. Capt. Stewart, who played his last game should feel proud of the way he has piloted his team to victory during the season. Karch, who also leaves this year, has played brilliantly on end, and Fullback Alford showed yesterday that he was going to wind up the season for Illinois with great honor to himself. It had been the hope of Illinois college to secure a game for Thanksgiving day but as previously mentioned, no school could be secured, and the football togs unless the unexpected happens, will be put away until next season. The score made yesterday is 4 more points than Illinois has ever scored against a team, 107 being the largest up to this time and that against Lincoln last year. It was surely ending the season splendidly and placing upon the flag-staff of old Illinois the championship pennant of the conference.

1st Quarter.
Illinois won the toss and chose to defend the north goal. Carthage kicked to Frisbie. Mitchell in the next play carried the ball to the 40 yard line and added another 15 yards. Wilson made an end run of 5 yards and Stewart and Alford duplicated the feat and Wilson was sent over for the first touchdown after three minutes of play. Frisbie kicked goal. Score 7 to 0. Illinois kicked off to Meyer, Simmons running the ball back 9 yards. Wilson intercepted a forward pass on the 40 yard line and ran the ball back to the 5 yard line. Alford by two line plunges carried the ball over for the second touchdown after five minutes of play. Frisbie kicked goal. Score 14 to 0.

Illinois again kicked to Windman, who carried the ball back to the 35 yard line. After two attempts to make their gains, Carthage kicked to Stewart, who carried the ball back for a good gain. Mitchell gained 10 yards around the end, Wilson 5 and Mitchell again for a 20 yard gain, when Alford was sent thru the line for the third touchdown. Score 21 to 0.

Illinois again kicked to Erwin. Carthage made an 8 yard gain by a forward pass from Meyer to Windman. Another pass failed and Carthage punted to Stewart. By a series of end runs in which Wilson, Alford, Frisbie and Stewart figured, Wilson was sent over for the fourth touchdown. Score 28 to 0.

Illinois again kicked off. Capt. Simmons returned the ball to the 25 yard line. Two forward passes by the visitors failed. Ebright and Windman each made four yards and a pass to Bodkins netted eight more yards. Carthage punted out of bounds on the 24 yard line when the first quarter ended, with the score 28 to 0.

2nd Quarter.
In the second quarter, Mitchell and Wilson started the ball rolling by gaining 8 and 12 yards respectively. Frisbie gained 6, and a pass to Wilson took the ball to the 35 yard line. Frisbie carried it on to the 15 yard line in another pretty play. Mitchell added 15 by an end run and two line bucks by Alford added another score, making the total points 34 to 0, as Frisbie failed to kick goal, the only miss during the contest.

Illinois kicked off to Erwin. The visitors were unable to make their gains and punted to Stewart, who carried the ball back to the 45 yard line. Mitchell made a brilliant run to the 24 yard line, and Wilson circled the end for a touchdown. Score 41 to 0.

Carthage kicked off again. Stewart carried the ball back to the 35 yard line. A pass to Frisbie netted 15 yards and another pass to Frisbie 22 yards. The third pass was intercepted by Ferris. Carthage punted out of danger and Alford returned the ball for a good gain. Stewart followed it up with 5 yards and a pass to Wilson took the ball to the 20 yard line. After another good gain by Alford, Stewart circled Carthage's left end for a touchdown. Score 48 to 0.

Carthage again kicked to Illinois. Wilson ran the ball back to the 36 yard line. Frisbie gained 11 yards by an end run. Alford made a line plunge and following three brilliant plays, two by Stewart and one by Wilson, Mitchell was sent around the end for a touchdown. Frisbie kicked goal. Score 55 to 0.

ILLINI DOWNS MAROONS BY TERRIFIC PLUNGING

FULLBACK HALSTROM SCORES
ONLY TOUCHDOWN.

Chicago Plays a Great Defensive Game—Only in the First Quarter is the Illini Able to Count.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Terrific line plunging by the Illinois backs in the first quarter of the game today with the University of Chicago, enabled the Illini to defeat the Maroons 10 to 0. The victory of Illinois was due in a great part to Fullback Halstrom's line plunging and dashes of tackle. He made the only touchdown and a few minutes later Macomber booted a field goal from placement.

Chicago played a great defensive game. Only in the first quarter were the Illini able to count and the Maroons must be given credit for the wonderful fight they made in last ditches. Once they held the Orange eleven for downs on their three yard line.

The game lacked the spectacular features expected. Coach Stagg had a defense that effectively stopped Pogue and Clark again and again, and Russell's dodging and spinning were of no avail against the Illini. Forward passes were frequently used by both teams, but the greater part of them failed of accomplishment. Perishing of Chicago won the plaudits of the season's biggest crowd by his clever running. The Illinois touchdown came after the Maroons, failing to gain, had punted. An interrupted march to the Chicago goal line was featured by Clark's twenty yard run and Halstrom's dives. Macomber's field goal from placement was made from the 25 yard line.

In the opening period Illinois kicked off and failing to gain Russell punted. Clark returned the ball to the goal line and Halstrom went over for a touchdown. Macomber kicked goal. On the next kickoff Perishing ran back forty yards and Agar lost the ball on a fumble. Forward passes took the ball into Maroon territory and Pogue carried it to the ten yard line but here the Illini suffered a penalty. Pogue was hurried thru the Chicago line again and a pass, Clark to Macomber brought the oval to the 15 yard line. Macomber dropped back to the 25 yard line and kicked goal from placement bringing the score up to ten to nothing in favor of the Illini. Neither side was able to count again.

In the second period a punting duel developed in which Russell had a slight advantage. Long forward passes and runs by Perishing, Agar and Russell brought the ball in Illinois territory but a double pass lost the ball on downs.

Halstrom broke thru the Maroon line for thirty yards and Pogue carried the ball to the Maroon 25-yard line where the Illini lost the oval on a fumble. Chicago punted and the downstaters again advanced into Maroon territory but Macomber missed a field goal from the fifteen yard line. The quarter ended with the ball in mid-field.

Desperate tactics on the defense marked the final period. Illinois smashed thru the Maroon tackles and carried the ball to the local's three-yard line. Here however, the advance was checked and the Illini held for downs. Russell punted out of danger. The ball was in mid-field when the final whistle blew.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 20.—The University of Minnesota football eleven closed its season today without a defeat, winning from the University of Wisconsin at Camp Randall, 20 to 3. The Badgers outplayed the Gophers in the first quarter, Eber Simpson's field goal putting Coach Juken's eleven in the lead but Minnesota outplayed the net period and scored a touchdown in each of the last three sessions. Shortly after the beginning of the second quarter a section of the bleachers on which were seated nearly 2,500 persons, collapsed. Of the 15 persons injured, four were seriously hurt.

Leading the attack of their respective teams, captains Bierman and Luck were the stars. Baston, Long and Wyman were other Minnesota around gainers while Hauser was a lower of strength in the line. Eber Simpson's brilliant eighty yard run from the kick off in the third quarter was a feature the Minnesota men running him out of bounds on Minnesota's four yard line.

The Badgers showed great strength when their goal was threatened but were handicapped by penalties at critical moments.

Both teams frequently tried forward passes, several of which were successful. In punting honors were about even between Quist and Simpson.

Seventeen thousand persons saw the game.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Changing its tactics in the second half from a punting game to one of open field play, forward passes and end runs Ohio State piled up 34 points to Northwestern's nothing at Evanston today. In the first two quarters both Buckeyes and purple resorted to punting almost exclusively and neither side scored. In the third quarter the change of attack netted Ohio state three touchdowns and the Coach Murphy shot practically every one of his "subs" into the game. Northwestern was unable to check the attacks in the last period.

Purdue, 7; Indiana, 0.
Bloomington, Nov. 20.—Purdue won from Indiana University today 7 to 0, when in the second period Halfback Pultz received a short forward pass and sprinted over the line for the only touchdown of the game. He kicked goal.

Purdue's line was broken thru time after time but the Bollermaker's defense always stiffened when their goal was in danger.

HARVARD TROUNCES YALE'S CRUDE ELEVEN

ELT'S FORCES CRUMBLE BEFORE CRIMSON ATTACK.

Game Becomes a Procession of Harvard Advances and Touchdowns
Again Which Yale Fought in Desperate but Futile Fashion.

Cambridge, Nov. 20.—Another perfect Harvard football machine rolled over Yale's crude eleven here this afternoon defeating the Blue 41 to 0 in a game in which the Crimson team surpassed all previous scoring records against the Elis. Before the powerful attack and defense of Captain Mahan's gridiron warriors the bull dog was helpless.

The breaks in the game also were all with Harvard. Before this combination the Eli's forces crumbled until the game ceased to be a contest and became a procession of Harvard advances and touchdowns, against which Yale fought in desperate but futile fashion.

Altho the fighting spirit which Tom Shelvin imparted to the Yale eleven was still in evidence, it availed the Blue nothing against Harvard's Houghton-instructed team. The savage rushes and tackles of the bull dog occasionally checked the Cambridge advance for a moment but after the initial period of the game the result was never in doubt.

Before Captain Mahan and his team mates completed their final day's work of the 1915 football season they recorded the largest total ever scored by a Harvard eleven against Yale and the largest, but one, ever made in the eastern football classic which dates back to 1875. In 1884 Yale defeated Harvard 48 to 0 and had today's game continued for a few minutes longer, these figures would have, in all probability been equalled or surpassed. As it was the contest established several new records. Harvard scored her first touchdown against Yale in the stadium since that structure was erected 12 years ago. In addition Captain Mahan closed his football career with a wonderful display of gridiron ability, during which he made four touchdowns and five goals from touchdowns for a total of 29 points, which is said to be an individual record for this series.

Mahan stood out above the other players of the crimson machine, but Watson, King, Harte, Boles and Soucy all shone in the perfect combination play of Houghton's gridiron team roller. Across the line Scoville, Guernsey, Black, Wav, Allen and Captain Wilson were the heroes of a desperate but unavailing stand against the charges of Harvard.

The weather was far from ideal. A chilling gale blew out of the west carrying the punted ball at varying speeds and baffling slant which made perfect handling it almost impossible. The gridiron was wet and slippery.

from the heavy rain of yesterday and at times the players lost their footing.

ASSEMBLYMEN GATHER FOR EXTRA SESSION

LEGISLATURE WILL CONVENE MONDAY AT NOON.

New Omnibus Bill and New Officers' Salary Bill Among Forty Measures Which Are To Be Considered—Appropriations Held Up by Fergus Suit.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 20.—Members of the Illinois General Assembly began to arrive here tonight in response to the call for an extra session of the legislature issued by Gov. Dunne.

The extra session which will convene at noon Monday was made necessary by a recent decision of the supreme court which upheld the contentions of John B. Fergus, a Chicago taxpayer, that certain salary limits in the omnibus appropriations bill were invalid, inasmuch as the persons to whom they were made were state officers, and not merely employees, and that, therefore, their salaries should have been provided for in a separate bill.

Between thirty and forty bills must be passed by the legislature and these will include a new omnibus bill and a new officers' salary bill. Most of the others will be technical amendments to existing laws. For instance, Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, the executive officer of the State Board of Health, was held by the supreme court to be a state officer. It will therefore be necessary for the legislature to amend the medical practice act stipulating what his salary should be and then appropriate the sum in the officers' salary bill, instead of the omnibus appropriation bill.

The list of places which the court held to be state offices and the amounts appropriated by the legislature for them per annum follow:

One assistant attorney general in charge of inheritance tax office, $5,000.

Two other assistants, each, $4,000.

One other assistant, $3,500.

Chief Grain Inspector, $7,000.

Fourteen deputy grain inspectors, $1,800.

Four deputy grain inspectors, each $1,350.

Three members of board of grain appeal, $2,500.

Deputy Chief Grain Inspector, E. St. Louis, $2,400.

Four deputy St. Louis grain inspectors, each, $1,500.

Members of the Board of Veterinary Examiners, $12,000.

Secretary board of pardons, $750.

Executive officer state board of health, $2,500.

Secretary Civil Service Commission, $2,500.

Director State Geological commission, $4,200.

Expenses of members of Board of Examiners of Architects, $2,000.

Secretary Architect Board, $1,800.

Secretary, board of dental examiners, $1,200.

Members, board of dental examiners, $2,000.

Members of Board of Barbers Examiners, $2,400.

State Inspector of Apiaries, $614.

Salary Secretary State board of pharmacy, $4,500.

Deputy State Fire Marshall, $2,000.

Six deputies, fire marshall, each, $1,500.

Eighteen deputies, fire marshall, each, $1,200.

Expenses members State board of registered nurses, $800.

Salary, Secretary state board of registered nurses, $1,800.

Secretary, Illinois Stallion registration board, $100.

Expenses of members of the board, $300.

Secretary State Industrial board, $2,500.

Secretary, Board of Examiners of Horse-Shoers, $364.

Expenses of members, Board of Horse-Shoers, $700.

Expenses members Optometry board, $1,750.

Secretary Optometry Board, $1,500.

None of the persons holding offices in this list have drawn salaries since last July when suit was filed by Fergus, thru his attorney, Fayette S. Munro, of Highland Park, a former member of the legislature. The suit prayed for an injunction to restrain the auditor of public accounts from drawing warrants and the treasurer from paying them out of the sums appropriated.

Commissioners Held Invalid.

Three commissions were held invalid by the supreme court because they were provided for by joint resolutions of the house and senate and were empowered to expend state money after the sine die adjournment of the legislature. The court held these commissions must be provided for by statutes. It is planned to have these taken care of at this session. The commissions affected are: The Illinois Centennial Commission, the Commission of Homes (Curran committee) and the Commission to Codify Building Laws.

Items which Governor Dunne sought to veto in part and others which he sought to cut in half by striking out the words "per annum" were held valid for the full amounts as passed by the legislature and Governor Dunne's call indicated that the legislators were expected to take these for the amount approved by him.

In his arguments in court Attorney Munro held that items vetoed in part by the governor were invalidated.

The governor filed his own brief with the supreme court clerk in which he contended that he had a legal right to "slice" items in appropriation bills. Logan Ray, special counsel for State Treasurer Andrew Russel, held that the items were

This Should Not Happen In Jacksonville

Where Can We Take Him?

valid for the full amounts as passed by the legislature and that was the view taken by the court.

Legislation designed to relieve Chicago's involved financial affairs by giving the city council the right to make appropriations over a half year, instead of a quarter, is to be presented to the legislature also, and it is there that the administration leaders are expecting difficulties to crop up. For this reason state legislation will be given the right of way.

The Governor's message will be read on the floor of both houses Monday soon after roll call. The houses will work until Wednesday when it is planned to adjourn over Thanksgiving Day until Monday, November 29. In the opinion of state officials the session will last until a few days before Christmas. Much of the work will be expedited because most of the necessary legislation has been prepared by the attorney general's office and is believed to be proof against further attack in the courts.

The state house restaurant has been cleaned up and it is planned to reopen it Monday for the legislators; the post office pigeon holes of both houses have been dusted out, and all is in readiness at the state house.

MINISTERS PENSION FUND

Chicago, Nov. 20.—"More than $5,000,000 is already in the treasuries of the Methodist Episcopal conferences and of the board of conference claimants, as an endowment fund to pension preachers," said Dr. J. B. Hingeley, secretary, today.

Dr. Hingeley says: "It is difficult to state in millions of dollars the exact situation regarding the 1915 campaign for ten million dollars, because the movement is in a condition of flux, and the movement is changing every day."

"The amount needed by way of permanent investments to make stable the claims of retired preachers is $15,000,000. Of this amount $5,000,000 is already in the treasuries of the conferences and the board of conference claimants, besides subscriptions as yet unpaid, leaving $10,000,000 as a conservative statement of the campaign in its present phases."

"Hence in the general literature of the campaign, it is spoken of today as the $10,000,000 campaign to secure money enough to pay each retired minister half the average salary in the conference of which he is a member."

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES.

A large number of out of town pupils are enrolled in the College of Music this year and that branch of our work is growing rapidly.

Some of those who come to us from near by towns are: Misses Fern Sherwood and Abigail Lazelle from Springfield, Miss Olive Fielder from Virginia, Messrs. Leslie Liscom and Milton Angier from Beardstown, Miss Lecta Danarin from Chandlerville, Miss Veda Ingram from Perry, Miss Helen Henry from Waverly.

A large number of students and faculty went to Springfield to hear the master violinist, Fritz Kreisler on Thursday evening, November 11. Because of the large number going, a special train was made up and a trip was especially easy and pleasant. All who went agreed that the concert more than repaid for the slight discomfort of the trip.

Miss Lazelle was to have been heard in a vocal recital on November 18th, but because of an attack of laryngitis, it has been postponed until December 2nd.

A very large number of students are planning to attend the concert by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra on the evening of November 24th.

The larger part of the College appropriation of the Library fund in the College of Music this year, will be spent in filling one of the long felt needs, namely, a new addition of Grove's Dictionary of Music. This work is to musicians what the Encyclopedia Britannica is to the general knowledge and this last edition is much the most complete authoritative and interesting of them all. With the balance of the appropriation and certain other funds available, special additional books will be added though there has been none definitely selected.

Mr. McClellan the assistant violin teacher, is making great success and large classes are well established at Beardstown and Virginia and the greatest enthusiasm is manifested everywhere over his work.

Because of the unusual enrollment in the piano department this year, it has been necessary to add an assistant teacher. The person selected for this position is an alumnus of this College, Miss Dean Obermeyer of the class of '14.

The Madrigal Club has begun its rehearsals and is working seriously and to good purpose under the leadership of Miss Lazelle. The club is larger this year than last and will number close to fifty.

WILL HOLD SOCIAL MEETING.

The Ladies Aid society of Centenary church will hold a social meeting with Mrs. George Fehr at 215 East College street Tuesday afternoon. The hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. C. O. Bahay, Mrs. Lena Kellogg, Miss Clara Ransom, Mrs. William Kastrop, Mrs. Dwight Kastrop, Mrs. T. L. Cannon, Mrs. Naomi Whorton, Miss Bess Harrison and Mrs. Harry Hart.

JACOB BLUMBERG WITH ST. LOUIS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Jacob Blumberg, a member of the first violin section of the St. Louis Symphony orchestra, which is scheduled to give a concert in this city Wednesday, Nov. 24, is what musicians call a wonder-child. Fifteen years ago he was astonishing all St. Louis, his native city, with his virtuosity, which was real despite his youth. Ten years ago he went abroad to study, entering the Royal Conservatory at Brussels and being almost immediately appointed concert-master of the conservatory orchestra. The great Cesar Thomson, one of the most eminent violin teachers in Europe, became his special mentor and frequently pronounced him the most promising pupil at the conservatory.

In his second year at the conservatory he was awarded first prize in a class of twenty-two of the most talented pupils of the famous school, being the only American who had won that honor in a decade. The prize was a violin valued at $500. He uses this instrument in all the orchestra concerts.

While in Brussels he played first violin in the Ysaye Symphony orchestra, the orchestra which is conducted by the world's most famous violinist, Eugene Ysaye, and his work having attracted the attention of his conductor he was invited to become a pupil of that genius for several months at the Ysaye country home in France. This was a signal honor, since Ysaye objects decidedly to teaching.

William and Emmett Miller made a trip to Chicago yesterday.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

OUTLOOK FOR LARGE INCREASE IN VISIBLE SUPPLY LOWERS WHEAT

Result is An Unsatisfied Finish—Corn and Oats Also Drop.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Wheat took a downward swing in price today largely because of the outlook for a heavy increase of the United States visible supply total on Monday. The result was an unsatisfied finish for wheat at 1.03% net lower, with December at $1.03% and May at $1.03%.

Corn lost 1/2c to 3/4c and oats 1/2c to 3/4c.

The outcome in provisions varied from unchanged figures to a decline of 20c.

It was difficult to find any trader who would talk of higher prices on wheat. Values broke at the start and were at no time able to recover to any material extent. Signs appeared numerous that at least after the close of lake traffic a rapid accumulation of stocks was likely and the fact that primary receipts for the day amounted to more than one million bushels excess compared with a year ago seemed to make certain a big addition to the domestic visible aggregate for the current week. Bears were not slow to draw the inference that export demand would have to be greatly enlarged to clear up the surplus. On the contrary, however, the uncertainty regarding ocean shipments especially to Italy and Greece remained a decided handicap to business.

According to some authorities the most liberal movement of the wheat crop this season might be looked for next week. Opinions were ventured that the only thing to prevent such a movement would be a shortage of cars.

Corn ranged lower mainly in sympathy with wheat. Oats followed the action of corn. Trade for the most part was local.

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated clean little liver and bowels.

If your little one's tongue is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoon full of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "Fruit Laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given to-day saves a sick child to-morrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS.

November 21.

Pope Benedict XV, head of the Roman Catholic church, is 61 years old today. The pontiff came to his high office at one of the most critical periods in modern history. He has had to bear a tremendous burden in the European war, but so heroic is the antagonism that his efforts for peace have been futile. Pope Benedict was born Giacomo Della Chiesa, the son of an aristocrat, on Nov. 21, 1854, at Genoa. He was so pious that his life was devoted to his church. He gained strength and thrived. At 13 he announced he wanted to enter the priesthood, although the Marquis Della Chiesa, his father, had planned to make a lawyer out of him. On entering the priesthood, he became secretary to Cardinal Rampolla. Under this famous churchman, he learned diplomacy. He was an apt pupil, full of determination, with a keen and ready wit. Later he was Rampolla's understudy when the latter was secretary of state in the Vatican. But he did not confine his time or efforts to diplomacy, but each morning could be seen at the church in the poorer quarter of Rome. He studied the poor and their problems, visited them, and his charity, while extensive, was always concealed. In 1905 he was made archbishop of Bologna. In 1914 he was elected to succeed Pope Pius.

Hetty Howland Robinson Green, the world's richest woman, 80 years old today.

"Alfalfa Bill" William H. Murray, congressman from Oklahoma, 46 years old today.

Miss Mary Johnston, southern authoress, 45 years old today.

Frederick C. Howe, immigration commissioner at Ellis Island, 48 years old today.

Frank Pixley, popular dramatist, 48 years old today.

Judge Frederick L. Siddons of the supreme court, District of Columbia, 51 years old today.

Dr. Stephen M. Newman, president of Howard university, Washington, 70 years old today.

Hon. David A. Hollingsworth, congressman from Ohio, 71 years old today.

Most Rev. Neil McNeill, Catholic archbishop of Toronto, 64 years old today.

35 yard line when time was called for the first half.

Second Team in Third Quarter

The third quarter opened with Carthage kicking to Capt. Stewart, who returned the ball to the 30 yard line. Wilson added 10 more yards and Mitchell followed up with a crisscross gain of 15 yards, and after another gain of 5 yards by Stewart, Wilson added another 15 yards. Mitchell was sent around the end for a touchdown. Frisbie kicked goal. Score 62 to 0.

Carthage again kicked off to Pierce, who returned the ball to the 45 yard line. At this part of the game Edwin, who was hurt, was supplanting at quarter by Jenkins, who played left end. Holtgreen took Jenkins' place at left end. Frisbie carried the ball to the 38 yard line, and followed it up by another brilliant play which took the ball to the 10 yard line. Six minutes of the quarter had gone when Coach Harmon, sent in his entire second team, who made their touchdown in a half minute of play, Jones plunging thru the line for the score. Illinois kicked to Windman. Gains were made by Simmons, Ferris and Jenkins. Windman and Elbright also added gains but the second team tightened up and held the visitors. Reynolds and Jones each gained 5 yards. Lukeman carried the ball toward goal 15 more yards and a pass to Lukeman from the 45 yard line to the 22 yard line put the second team within easy distance of scoring.

Lukeman by a cleancut end run placed the oval on the 13 yard line, when the quarter ended.

Again Coach Harmon put in his first team and a repetition of the former part of the game was made. The touchdowns were scored by Frisbie, Wilson, Mitchell (2) and Alford, the last named making his final score a few seconds before time was called.

AGED GRANDMOTHER

So Weak She Could Hardly Stand—Made Strong by Vinol.

Right here in Jacksonville we have seen such excellent results from Vinol that it is a pleasure to know it is doing so much good for old people in other parts of the country.

Woodbridge, N. J.—"My Grandma was recovering from the grippe and was so weak she could hardly stand, and she keeps house for my father and myself, she could not get around at all. She had taken cod liver oil and many other medicines, but nothing seemed to do her any good. At last we heard of Vinol and tried it. Grandma commenced to feel better right away, and got strong very soon, so she gets around as well as ever. We all praise Vinol for it is a splendid medicine." Myrtle H. Bunn.

The reason Vinol is so successful in restoring strength to the aged is because of the rare combination of tonic iron, the curative medicinal peptone and mild native wine. It supplies iron to the blood, quickens the appetite, aids digestion, promotes proper assimilation of food, and enriches the blood, and brings back the strength of renewed health.

"IN HIS NAME"

(From the Journal of Feb. 22, 1914. Reprinted by request.)

Occasionally one hears criticism of our hospitals, in that many assume that they are not charitable institutions in the sense that service is entirely free to those unable to pay. It takes a large amount to meet the daily running expenses of these institutions—pay of nurses, subsistence, heat, light, and the thousand and one incidentals that must be met. It would take a very large amount each year to defray these. Where patients have relatives or friends able to pay they are expected to do so. About the only fund Passavant Hospital has to meet the many cases brought to them that are penniless is the "tag day" fund, amounting to comparatively few hundreds of dollars a year. There are, perhaps, many contributions aside from this, though but few of any considerable amount, and that is absorbed in expenses not met by the nominal amount charged in many cases where a patient is poor, where they or their friends, can and will pay a small amount.

But charity is not always in the giving of an amount of money or a service entirely free. It is in the willingness to care for the sick, to alleviate, as far as may be, suffering that could not be cared for in the homes. It is the kindness and care of the nurses, the giving to the homeless the same or even greater care and attention and comfort they might have if they were fortunate enough to possess a home and loving relatives.

The writer has recently known of a case where the patient was not friendly, yet in a sense he was alone—not a relative, so far as known, in the United States. So far as his few friends were aware, there was not even the address of a relative, although it is believed there were children living, to whom word might be sent. He was a man honest and faithful to the interests of those in whose employ he had been. It is believed that he had sent his small savings to the relatives in England—yet there was no scrap of paper left among his few possessions to show who or what they were.

From the room where he had been able to make himself comfortable and to love as a "home" during quite a number of years, he was taken, under the advice of his physician, to Passavant Hospital. Not realizing the serious character of his illness this man, alone in a sense, received greater care than could have been given him in most homes—and his last hours were made as easy and comfortable as care and kindness could accomplish.

This in a few words emphasizes the great good, the great benefit to a community caused by institutions of this kind—to give to the homeless care and attention that, in their absence, could not otherwise be secured.

They took him in as a stranger, cared for him, made his last hours as easy as care and kindness and knowledge made possible. The small amount charged by the hospital was as nothing compared with the great benefit conferred, and the comfort given his friends.

Charity cannot be counted in dollars and cents. This man spoken of above was not a church attendant, had no society or fraternal connections, and yet in love for a fellow countryman, a prominent Salvation Army man cared for him, just before he was taken to the hospital, as a brother—(true charity, and conferring more of benefit than money could have brought) visited him at the hospital, talked with him of the future, and most certainly ministered unto him "as you would have others do unto you". And when death came, the officers of the Army, led by their captain and this true man, conducted the last services, and the "stranger" was laid away in the cemetery by these people, as one of their own.

They say the word "charity" may cover a multitude of sins. But caring for those who are in many ways helpless and alone is of the kind that may bring the greatest reward.

The hospital did its share in affording a place where skilled and kindly nurses gave their ministrations. The Salvation Army gave the consolation of religion and hope at his bedside and cared for him in death.

"Inasmuch as ye have done unto the last of these, my brethren, ye have done unto me".

CONDEMNES UNDERPAYING OF GOSPEL MINISTERS

"Suction Pump" Method of Raising Money for Churches Scored by Prominent Episcopalian.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—The "suction pump" method of raising money for church purposes is wrong, according to a statement made by William A. M. Van Bokkelen, treasurer of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of California, and published here today by "The Esteyman," a Methodist Episcopal journal. It was announced that the statement was made by Mr. Van Bokkelen as representing the views of William Ford Nichols, D. D., Episcopalian bishop of California. It follows in part:

"It is a fundamental principle of human nature that no employee can render good, efficient service and the most effective service of which he is capable whose mind is distracted from his work by the thought of how he shall make ends meet on the salary he receives. As he advances in age and approaches the deadline, he is further distracted by the thought of what is to become of him and those dependent on him when he is compelled to relinquish even his meager compensation.

"Of no profession or occupation is this truer other than that of the clergyman, yet is none of which more is expected. Young men full of religious enthusiasm, feeling themselves called of God, enter the ministry. In the vigor of youth they are ready to deny themselves all the creature comforts of life, which are open to them in other walks of life, only to find that the world is ready and willing to accept the sacrifices. The world in many lines of work is recognizing the necessity of making provision for the care of its superannuated employees as a right, not as a grudging charity, and the church at last is awakening to the same fact and is providing an old-age pension positive and automatic, not an uncertain charity dependent on annual appeals.

"The suction pump method of raising money for church purposes by special appeals is totally wrong. The people should be taught their duty as stewards. Appeals are good in their way in arousing men to their duty, but they are deficient, first, in gripping the individual man with a sense of his responsibility for the use of what God had given him, and, second, in getting into his consciousness and conscience the feeling that his responsibility must be squared with God rather than with any appeal or apportionment; in other words, that the personal religion needs some systematic plan for giving more than any church or beneficial cause needs money.

"True giving is not by good, but for God. The church should enter upon the propaganda to impress upon the conscience of every man and woman that it is his and her duty to canvass prayerfully the stewardship of the goods and determine what portion it is his or her duty to set aside for the relief of others and the services of God, than as occasion requires to freely give with judgment, not as a necessity, but as a pleasure for a duty performed.

"Let the church assume the duty of impressing on its people this duty of stewardship, and instead of appeals for special purposes, a more statement will open up the coffers and the people will respond with joy that an occasion has been offered."

FOREIGN GOODS MUST BE MARKED TO SHOW ORIGIN

Treasury Department to Enforce Section of Tariff Law Relative to Foreign Goods.

New York, Nov. 20.—The treasury department is starting to enforce that section of the tariff law providing for the marking of foreign goods brought to this country. On orders from Washington, the strict enforcement was put off last April for ninety days, but beginning next week the law will be put down tight on unmarked goods.

While there is an advantage to the sellers here to have certain lines of goods from abroad properly marked with the country of origin, the proposition is regarded unfavorably in many other classes of merchandise. Jobbers of foreign goods frequently desire to have their products pass as American goods, particularly in instances where the American products excel in finish and workmanship and have an established reputation. On the other hand, domestic manufacturers often raise the point that inferior goods of foreign manufacture are frequently palmed off on the unsuspecting public, the ultimate consumers, as the productions of American factories. Some manufacturers here allege that their business has been seriously cut into by this practice.

It is understood that protests were lodged with the treasury department. In the course of an investigation into the labeling feature of the tariff law, treasury agents made the discovery that, since the outbreak of the European war German manufacturers in many lines have been omitting their name and other marks, as well as the words "Made in Germany." As nearly as could be learned by the United States agents, the object of the omissions is to sell the merchandise in enemy countries, as well as among neutrals, where more or less prejudice exists against Germany.

While it cannot be said that a great amount of German goods minus distinguishing marks has reached this country as yet, it is known that vast quantities of merchandise are at Rotterdam and other neutral ports awaiting a modification of the British embargo, or even the end of the war, when it is planned to ship the goods to the United States, not only for consumption here, but with the intention of transshipping the products to Canada, Australia, South Africa and elsewhere, apparently as American goods.

The customs service has decided to nip in the bud any move of the kind outlined above. The first line of imports to come in for official action is German enameled ware, which has enjoyed a big market in this country. In the past German manufacturers of these goods have waged a bitter warfare on competing American makers, while importers' controversies with the government authorities here have been numerous. A favorite practice was to have the goods produced with slight dents or other unimportant imperfections in order to make the claim on entry that the merchandise is "seconds" and should be admitted at lower rate.

A letter from the customs division at Washington instructs the collector to decline to release shipments of enameled ware unless the merchandise is marked according to the treasury's regulations as the official interpretation of the tariff provisions. In the decision rendered that enameled ware must be permanently and indelibly marked with the country of origin, the department holds that articles, or sets of articles, packed in boxes or packages intended to be sold at retail in such boxes or packages, are not required to be indelibly marked, as the box or package is the article of commerce which is required by law to be marked.

Jobbers of foreign goods foresee a good deal of trouble with the customs authorities, for thousands of dollars' worth of goods have already been paid for abroad, and much of this material, it is understood, is unmarked.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Prin who have been visiting Mrs. Prin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lutkeneyer, of 730 West North street, have left for Cincinnati where they will visit a while and then proceed to their home in Los Angeles, Calif.

READY FOR TRIAL OF ST. LOUIS "ARSON TRUST"

Leading Men of City are Implicated in Alleged Conspiracy.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 20.—All arrangements have been completed for the opening next Monday of the trial of the famous "arson syndicate," in which some of the leading men of this city are implicated. The recent exposure of the alleged conspiracy to load property at inflated values with insurance, then apply the torch and divide the insurance, created a sensation.

The first man to stand trial will be either Julius R. Bersch, vice president of an insurance agency, one of the wealthiest men in the insurance business here, or Harold Gilmore, president of the Gilmore-Gondig Decorating company, whose plant was destroyed by fire last July, entailing a heavy financial loss. Roy M. B. Tidd, mayor of Webster Groves, Mo., a prominent figure in church and fraternal circles, who was also indicted in connection with the fire at his printing plant, will probably be third in line for trial.

Last September the grand jury began an investigation of an alleged "arson trust" which was said to have operated in this city for years and to have defrauded insurance companies of at least $2,500,000.

Tidd and Bersch were jointly indicted with arson in the third degree, based upon the supposed incendiary origin which destroyed the Nixon-Jones printing plant. The loss as estimated by officials of the company was $79,000. The company carried insurance to the amount of $62,000.

Another indictment, based on the Gilmore-Borch fire, accuses Harold G. Gilmore, president of the company; Harry C. Imel, secretary of the company; Bersch, the insurance agent, and Edward Miller, or Miller, who was identified by witnesses as a man who fled from the basement of the store a few seconds after a terrific explosion had aroused the neighborhood. Imel was accused by Herbert O. Baker, confessed promoter of arson fires, and by the men who manned a truck which carted explosives from an express company storeroom under the guise of "boxed pickles" to the basement of the store two weeks before the fire.

A third indictment charges attempted arson in the third degree and names Michael O'Connor, Bersch, Otto L. Leman and Max and Morris Greenburg. This was based on the attempt to burn the plant of the Christy Bellows company. The date for the fire was set for Sept. 11, and when a teamload of gasoline, waste, fuse, powder and other accessories was driven into the yard the detectives were waiting for the plotters.

Herbert O. Baker, solicitor for the Bersch concern and himself a man of prominence in town, was arrested after the sensational capture of the "torches." His admission led to the roundup of the prominent men who were indicted.

Edward Chrisman of Merritt was a visitor in Jacksonville Saturday.

CARBON A PUZZLE

The Mystery That Links a Diamond to a Lump of Graphite.

A SECRET OF THE MOLECULES.

Why Exactly the Same Elements Form Such Different Substances Is the Riddle—Changing a Mass of Charcoal Into a Minute but Pure Gem.

Carbon, one of the seventy or eighty primary elements out of which all matter is formed, occurs, pure, in two entirely different and contrasted forms. These are, first, diamond and, second, graphite or plumbago (pencil lead). If each of these substances was a compound or mixture of different elements, comprising in both cases carbon as the principal constituent there would be no cause for mystification. But they are absolutely the same unmixed thing, although in appearance and in properties they are totally unlike.

The molecules of each are the same—they are molecules of carbon, and nothing else—but in one the molecules are so arranged that they form a transparent, excessively hard, solid crystal, endowed with marvelous powers of refracting light which make it the most dazzling of all gems, and, in the other, the same molecules are so arranged that they form a dull, soft, black or gray substance that leaves a dirty streak when rubbed upon paper.

The secret lies within them. It is in the internal play of the molecular forces, but what makes those forces act so differently when they have precisely the same material to work upon? Burn a diamond and it turns to graphite.

Charcoal is a third form of carbon, ordinarily produced by the charring of wood, whereby all the other elements contained in the wood are removed, leaving the carbon in the form of a soft, black substance which, in some ways, resembles graphite.

Charcoal and a few similar substances are called amorphous, or "shapeless" carbon, because they are never crystallized, as diamond always, and graphite sometimes, is. Yet charcoal, too, has the royal diamond blood. That blood sometimes sits on the throne and sometimes slaves in the mine; but, despite the turn of chance below, it is always itself.

Charcoal can turn to diamond, and the things that make it turn are great heat combined with great pressure. Here, in outline, is the process, as it has been performed in laboratories, especially by the French chemist, Moissan: Into a mass of molten iron a quantity of pure charcoal is put. Then the liquid iron, which dissolves the charcoal very much as water dissolves sugar, is placed in an electric furnace and heated in a temperature of nearly 5,000 degrees F. Immediately it is plunged into cold water, in order to cause a quick cooling.

The result of the sudden cooling is the formation of a solidified shell on the surface of the iron which powerfully compresses the interior part, when it in turn cools and tries to expand. The result of this compression is to force the imprisoned carbon (charcoal) to crystallize into diamond. If the molten iron is allowed to cool at ordinary pressure the charcoal only turns to graphite. So we see that the magic wand whose touch makes diamond of what would otherwise be mere dull pencil lead is the wand of high pressure.

It is believed that this is substantially the way in which nature herself makes diamonds. In the great diamond mines of South Africa there is evidence that the gems were formed in the bowels of ancient and long since extinct volcanoes, where, of course, both intense heat and enormous pressure were available in unlimited quantities. But nature in her huge volcanic laboratories works on a scale which we cannot imitate, so that there is no cause for surprise in the fact that, while she can make diamonds as big as walnuts when she chooses, we can make none even as big as a pin's head. The largest artificial diamond is less than a millimeter in diameter. But it is genuine diamond, and with that fact to start with, who can say what may be done some day?

There are a number of meteors which have fallen upon the earth from outer space that contain microscopic diamonds resembling the artificial ones. None of them is large enough to be of any importance except as scientific curiosities, but as such they fill the mind with wonder. Where and how were they created—in what world or what star?

The principal metals found in meteors are iron and nickel, with occasional traces of cobalt, copper, aluminum, tin and magnesium.—Garrett P. Serviss in New York Journal.

FATE HAD WILLED IT.

So, In Typical Far Eastern Style, They Made the Best of It.

We were standing round a small fire—wrote Arminius Vambery, the Hungarian linguist and traveler, in his account of a caravan journey to Bokhara—when we were startled by two reports from firearms and the loud yelling of some person who was badly hurt. The whole caravan was alarmed, and we all ran to the rear, where we found one of our companions with a shattered arm.

The cause of the affray was this: Several horsemen who were conveying the annual taxes from Shiraz to Teheran had come up with two Jewish shopkeepers, whom they first insulted and then started to assault, when a Persian of our company interfered. One of the horsemen became so enraged that he lifted his rifle and shot at the Jews. He afterward declared that he had intended to frighten one of the Jews by shooting through his cap, but he missed his aim and hit the Persian's arm.

The incident so exasperated the whole caravan that our men pursued the culprit and brought him back securely tied. The poor wretch was given such a beating that he was unable to walk and was placed with his victim on one of the caravan mules. Left to themselves, the would-be murderer and his victim became quite friendly. They tied up each other's wounds, consoled one another and went so far in their newborn friendship as to kiss each other, for according to the eastern way of thinking neither of them was to be held responsible for what had happened. Fate had willed it.

Hit Him Coming and Going.

An attorney went to a livery stable and hired a team for two or three hours and at the end of that time, in a state of absentmindedness, left the team at another livery stable, where it remained eight days. At stable No. 1 there was no worry about the team. They knew the attorney was perfectly good for the pay. At stable No. 2 there was equal freedom from anxiety. The attorney came there, left the team and went away, saying nothing. They put the horse into a stall and "chalked it down" on the office slate, knowing him to be a business man who paid cash. Discovery came at last, and the lawyer was presented with two bills, one for eight days' hire and the other for eight days' keep. He paid both bills promptly, but it cured him of being absentminded for nearly a whole month.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mack returned Saturday to their home in Athensville after attending the funeral of Mr. Mack's sister-in-law, Mrs. Harvey Mack.

LIVED IN SAME TOWN 43 YEARS

Charles Troop, of Bissell, Ill., Regains Health and Strength Through Tanlac.

PRaises MEDICINE

Another testimonial which bespeaks the merits of Tanlac, the "Master Medicine" now being introduced in Jacksonville, is the statement which was made last Monday by Charles Troop, a miner, who has resided in the town of Bissell, Ill., for the past forty years and who is well known in that community. Mr. Troop was highly pleased with the results which he had obtained from the use of Tanlac, and in regard to his improvement had the following to say:

"Before I began taking Tanlac, I was a pretty sick man. I have not felt well for a long time, and though I was able to go about my work, I felt weak and all tired out. My stomach was all out of order and I did not care for anything to eat. At night I was restless and could not sleep. When I would get up in the morning, I would feel just as tired as if I had not been to bed at all. I tried several remedies to see if I could not regain some of my lost strength but none of them seemed to do me any real good. I was speaking to a friend of mine about my condition recently and he asked me if I had tried Tanlac. He said that he had heard it was helping people who were in the same fix that I was, so I came to Springfield and bought a bottle.

"I was surprised at the change that took place in my condition. I want to tell you that Tanlac is alright, if it will help everyone as it has helped me. Since taking the medicine I feel a whole lot better in several ways. I sleep better at night and feel like another person when I get up in the morning. My appetite is improving every day and I am always glad when the dinner bell rings. The old tired and worn-out feelings which were with me so long have gone away and I seem to have new strength and energy with which to go about my work. Tanlac is a fine medicine, and I am sure it will help anyone who will give it a fair trial."

Tanlac, the "Master Medicine," is now being sold in Jacksonville at the well-known drug store of Coover & Shreve.—Adv.

Luke McLuke Says:

A muddy complexion is often the cause of a clear conscience.

There are other pests in the world.
But one of the commonest variety is the couple with the "calling" habit.
They dig up some unsuspecting acquaintance every other evening and call without notice. The result is that the female end of the family being called on spends the evening yawning and trying to appear interested in what the callers are gabbling about, and the male end of the family being called on makes frequent trips out to the back yard where he curses the callers until the air is blue and wonders when the doubled pests are going to go.

The man who thinks he knows it all discovers that he doesn't know a blamed thing when he gets stacked up against a small boy who has just grown old enough to ask questions.

We do not blame other nations for avoiding trouble with this country. It is possible that those European war monarchs received a few magazines and newspapers printed in this country and judged the rest of our male population by the wonderful athletes displayed in the underwear and clothing advertisements.

Of course you can have things your own way if you try hard enough, but if you ever do try it you are going to be mighty lonesome.

Oratory may be great stuff, but when a man is shouting you have an idea that he isn't doing much thinking.

Try to learn at least one thing every day. Try to remember that you are forgetting at least 100 things every day.

This old world would have been saved a heap of trouble if old Satan had used a mouse disguise instead of a snake disguise when he interviewed Eve.

LAND O'NOD STORIES

BILLY MEETS THE ANT QUEEN.

Billy Be By Bo Bum and Tinker Teedle Tee followed their guides down the dark hallway of the ants' underground city until at last they arrived at a big room opening off the main passage. A guard stood at the door, and at first he refused to let them pass, barring the way with his body, his jaws wide open displaying his powerful teeth. He looked so fierce and savage that Billy was just a wee bit frightened and shrank back against Tinker for protection.

"This is Tinker Teedle Tee and Billy Be By Bo Bum, who have come to pay a visit to the Queen," said
the leader of their guides.

"Oh, all right; walk right in," replied the guard, stepping to one side.
"You'll find her in here, busy as usual."

As they entered the big room Billy saw dozens and dozens of ants drawn up in a circle and in the center was the Queen. She was several times larger than the courtiers surrounding her and her dress was a lighter shade of brown, but otherwise there was nothing to distinguish her from the thousands of busy insects swarming throughout the city. As Billy and Tinker advanced into the room the circle of ants surrounding the Queen opened to let them pass, but closed behind them like a living wall.

"How do you do, Billy Be By Bo Bum?" said the Queen. "I am very glad to see you and to have the chance to welcome you to Antland."
"I am pretty well, I thank you, and I hope you are the same," replied Billy, bowing politely, for he had not forgotten his manners.

"Oh, I'm all right, I guess," sighed the Queen, "but I am tired, very tired, indeed. You see the children take up so much of my time, they require so much attention, the little dears."

"But I thought queens had nothing to do but wear a crown and have a good time," faltered Billy in astonishment. "I always supposed they had lots and lots of servants to do their work for them like rich folks."

"You guessed wrong, Billy Boy. I am the very busiest little woman in all this busy city, altho I have thousands of willing helpers to assist me.
Before my family got so large I did part of my own housework and cared for the children, but now it keeps me busy from morning until night
just laying eggs."

"Have you many children?"
"Oh, about ten thousand, I guess,"

altho of course I never counted them. If I stopped for that I would never get time for anything else."

"Ten thousand!" gasped Billy.
"Yes, but then you see I am the only mother in the whole city," replied the Queen. "Every ant you see here, whether worker, soldier, princess or male, is one of my boys or girls. And when you think of the number of eggs I have to lay in the course of a year you will realize that being a Queen is mighty hard work."

"You must remember, Billy Boy, that I founded this city myself. I was married and left home when I was only a young girl, but as my husband died on our wedding day, I was left alone in the world to shift for myself. So I journeyed here and started to build a city of my own.
It was terribly hard work at first,
with no one to help me, but I stuck to it and soon had a cozy little nest hollowed out under ground. There I laid my eggs, scores and scores of them, and when they hatched out it kept me busy from morning until night caring for the babies in addition to gathering food for myself.
However, when my first children grew up it was somewhat easier, for they helped me enlarge the house and fill the store rooms with grain.
Since then the city has grown year by year until now it is the largest ant colony in this part of the country, so I am told."

"Do you ever go visiting to the other ant cities?" asked Billy.

"Mercy, no," replied the Queen.
"My canners are so afraid that something will happen to me that they will not let me go out of sight of my own front door. In fact you might say they keep me a prisoner, for whenever I go outside the gate to get a little fresh air and exercise in the sunshine, my bodyguard always goes with me. If they think I am going too far, they surround me and drive or even pull me back into the city again. But, tell me, why are you looking at me so funny? Is there anything the matter with my dress?"

"Why, I—I thought, at least Tinker said that Queens always had wings," stammered Billy.
"And you're wondering what became of mine?" laughed the Queen.
"Well, Billy Boy, when I was a young Princess I had as beautiful a pair of wings as you ever saw, but when I became a Queen I pulled them off."

And next week I'll tell you more about the Ant Queen.

LIFE IN THE SEA.

It Exceeds That of the Land, Square Mile For Square Mile.

The sea teems with plants and animals, and it has been estimated that the amount of life in the sea exceeds that of the land, square mile for square mile. Animal life is found nearly everywhere, even at the greatest depth;
but it flourishes best at or near the shore. On the other hand, plant life seems to be absent over the bottoms of the ocean basins, but plentiful at the surface, where the sunlight plays an important part in its growth.

It is believed that the original forms of life began in the ocean many million years ago, and at no time since has life there ceased. Many of the earliest forms are now extinct; others have gradually increased in number and variety from their beginning to the present time. How long ago life began no one has definitely determined, but it is known to have been many million years ago, for the remains of extinct animals and plants are found in the oldest sedimentary rocks.

According to geologists, the oceanic waters have made many incursions upon the continents and at times have nearly submerged them. Long ago, even in a geologic sense, before the birth of the Appalachian or Rocky mountains, the sea made frequent visits to the interior of our continent and left, after each retreat, a sandy, muddy or silty deposit mixed with shells and other organic remains, which later became solidified into rock. Were not the organic remains still found in the deposits it would be difficult to believe that the ancestors of many present day sea animals once lived along the beaches of an ancient inland sea.—

earth around the sun, the phases of the moon, the signs of the zodiac and the date according to the Gregorian, Greek, Mussulman and Hebrew calendars.
The works took two years to put together after the clock had been sent in detached pieces from Switzerland to Russia.

MRS. MYRTLE W. TANDY IS SHOWERED WITH MANY PRESENTS

Kindly Remembered Upon Retirement as President of the Rebekah State Assembly—Appointed Delegate to National Meeting in Chattanooga.

Mrs. Myrtle W. Tandy was the recipient of many gifts, upon her retirement from the presidency of the Rebekah state assembly at the gathering just concluded in Springfield. She was elected to represent the assembly at the national meeting of the Sovereign Grand lodge which meets next September in Chattanooga, Tenn., the first appointment of its kind ever made by the organization. She was also appointed by John J. Crowder, grand master on the board of the Orphans' home at Lincoln, for a period of five years. She was also given a banquet at the St. Nicholas hotel and the affair was a brilliant one. Much praise was heard from the degree work done by Caritas lodge of this city, and was pronounced the best ever seen in the state assembly.

The presents she received follows: Electric persolator, commissioner on state of the order; cut glass vase, Sallie D. Wyatt, Ida M. Reinbach, N. Z. Reinbach, Bess G. Hart, Charles B. Darling; loving cup, from credential, mileage and per diem committee; nut set, by analysis and distribution committee, gavel, hand made by Antoinette Personette; bath set, by the tellers; hand made towel, from Joseph Hairgrove; hand set from Eugene LaFont; fllet doily from Mrs. McCutcheon; handkerchief from Mrs. Clyde Singley; table cloth, legislative committee; doily from Kate Froelich; hand painted plate from Lottie Shrewsbury; corset cover from Emma Heylsmith; silver toothpick holder from Mrs. Charles Price; cut glass jar from Margaret Weldon; kimona from Margaret Weldon; half dozen embroidered handkerchiefs from Margaret Weldon; half dozen embroidered handkerchiefs from Clara Lowe; cut glass basket from Flora Neff Phillips; two hand embroidered bed sets from finance committee; cut glass dish from Rose Bremer; hand painted cup and saucer from Cera Bright; basket of flowers from Anna Baldwin; two dozen chrysanthemums, two dozen roses, from executive committee; one dozen white chrysanthemums from the degree staff; $25 in gold from Caritas Rebekah lodge of Jacksonville; diamond ring from executive committee; the president's jewel from the assembly; $3 from the grand lodge committee; large flag from printing committee; past president's certificate; comb, set with emeralds and diamonds, from Mrs. Ellen O.
